Course Marketing

4exMilitary Jobs Ltd is a leader in ex - military recruitment and our popularity enables us to provide a marketing platform for education and training providers aiming to attract Armed Forces leavers.

- As an ex-military recruitment and internet job board business, we attract to the website those personnel currently leaving the Armed Forces and those who already have experience of civilian life.
- We have a huge membership of over 20,000 ex-military personnel, which grows at a substantial rate each year.
- We are an advertising medium for education and training providers to advertise their courses on and in general to raise their presence within the ex - military arena by having a banner presence on the website.
- Our advertising fees are competitive allowing you to advertise up to 10 courses for as little as £400 + vat per year. A much more cost effective approach than spending a “small fortune” on magazines and trade journals which although may hit a larger audience don't quite target those searching for training courses.
- To have your logo banner on the Courses Home page of our website with a click through link to your website the cost is £500 + Vat for the year.
